The International Studies Centers at the University of Kansas are pleased to offer local educators a new way to bring global competencies into the classroom at all grade levels and across all curriculum areas. On designated Wednesdays throughout the 2014-15 school year, FREE one-hour, hands-on lessons on language and culture from different world areas will be offered at the new Lawrence Public Library. Each session will be taught by an expert in the field and will be designed to give you the know-how you need to turn around and teach it to your students. Sessions will include handouts, interactive activities, and much, much more!
